DEDICATION

We, the Class of '48 thank you Miss Keenan for all that you have done in making our Senior Year a truly successful one; both in studies and socially. We will always remember and be appreciative for the inspiration and patience you have given us.

Your personal interest in our future educations and ambitions has inspired us greatly. We are grateful for the time you have devoted to our class activities and the effort you have given to us in our various subjects.

Again, we thank you for all you have done, and we will always remember you not only as a teacher, but as a friend.

THE GREEN YEARS

Sir Robert Walpole once wrote, "All history is a lie." The class of "48" class history is quite unbelievable but quite true.

September 8, 1945--a day of rejoicing? No, it was a sad mournful day for the poor hardworking teachers. That is the day that the class of "48" "crashed the gates" of our freshman year. Remember us then--sweet innocent children with a mad desire for learnings. Coach Bader was our new coach and many of our skinny athletes decided then to take football so as to greatly improve the sport. Can you ever forget the gym exhibition girls.

Many of us found that the studying was quite hard but we somehow always managed to pass the tests. New teachers (poor souls) were heralded with joy as they came to take the places of other teachers who had suffered nervous breakdowns. Among these we welcomed Miss Keenan, Miss Moody, Mr. Bader and Mr. Dickerman.

The big event of that year was our first dance that could be held at night. That was a big time all right,--imagine a dance with a real live juke box. We then learned the procedure of writing out invitations to the teachers to act as chaperones at our dances. Many times the invitations would arrive the night after the big dance--but that was excused because we were young and inexperienced. (at least that was our excuse.)

How we envied our big brother upperclassmen who could get out of classes for one reason or another. Most of our big wheels were then only little spokes.

Somehow with luck we managed to get by those trying days of our freshman year with not too many casualties.

Our Sophomore year was a little more daring. Some of our boys even got caught smoking. Our social prestige was ruined. It was that year of 1946 that our girls wrote the ancient and honorable "Ode to Brade." Our gift to great literature.

We welcomed Mr. Thurston, Mr. O'Neil, Miss Whiting and Miss Montague as members of the faculty.

We held many class dances and the adoption of movies was tried. It was that year that the girls played the teachers in basketball. We took it out on the poor teachers all right. There was many a twisted knee and a bloody nose after that battle.

Do you remember those uproarious class meetings when poor Don Johnson tried to keep order.

We withstood our sophomore year with one thought in mind-- next year we would be in the upper brackets - that of our Junior year.

We finally achieved the ranks of Juniors, a feat that deserved much praise. We were no longer inexperienced children but we had been transformed into mature young adults. (so our mothers thought)

Miss O'Neil, Mr. Uppvall and Mr. Stevens joined the faculty at Westwood.

Our big event of the year was the Junior prom which was held in May. It was our first major event and we struggled through making it a big success.

Already lectures were being given about future plans after high school. New slang says were also invented by our aspiring Junior boys. The new look as we know it now was not the same. The new look was done by making hideous and grotesque facial expressions. Ask some of our girls how it was done.

1948 - The year of the atom bomb and the squirt gun. Anyone who walked down the corridor was not surprised to see a Sophisticated Senior with a squirt gun. The seventh grade was shocked with our conduct.

Our first great event of that year was the football and basketball dances. The Senior Play "Come Rain or Shine" was equally important.

The whole class co-operated as never before to make this year something to remember. More slang sayings were introduced. "Big Wheel" was the new and popular saying. The new look came into being and was not too popular with the boys. In reprisal for the long black skirts the girls wore, the boys began to roll up their cuffs to expose their argyle socks.

We owe a lot of thanks to Miss Keenan, Our class adviser, and to all the teachers who helped to make "our green years" happy ones.

OUR FAREWELL

Now is the hour
When we must say good-bye
Soon we'll be leaving
Dear old Westwood High

As we make our way
To the height of our career
We will remember always
Dear old Westwood High

WESTWOOD SCHOOL SONG

Let us sing a song for Westwood
For the school we love so well;
Give a cheer for grand old Westwood,
Let the mighty chorus swell,
Sing her praise forever glorious,
Make her fame ring out with might,
Let us sing and shout 'till the hills ring out
"Good old Westwood, green and white".

We will sing our love for Westwood
And be proud her name to bear;
We will love to bring her glory
And her honors gladly share.
Sing with all your might for Westwood,
Let us all her praise proclaim
Make it loud and long, while her sons prolong
Good old Westwood's honored name.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1948, possessing mind and body, though heaven knows how sound, do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament:

Nancy Ashcroft leaves her height to Joan Hamilton, who needs it.

Jack Bagley leaves Mr. Uppall.

Gloria Bedard leaves her typing ability to Barb Munroe,

Eunice Bennet leaves her excellent horsemanship to Betty Abel,--although Betty doesn't need it.

Irene Bertelsen leaves her brain to next year's Chemistry class.

Jean Biateck leaves Geometry class----gladly!

Elaine Bigelow leaves her deepest sympathy to all you poor unfortunates.

Joyce Bothwell leaves her petiteness to Carol Kennedy.

Barbara Burt leaves the headache of typing the Nahatan News and the Yearbook to the next poor soul.

Harvey Clark leaves his sleek "Chevy" to Swansons.

Joe Fay leaves his snappy clothes to Duster Frechette.

Anna Geiger leaves her silence to Norma Kelley--who could use some!

Bill Haley leaves his virtuosity on the dance floor to whoever has any ingenuity.

Paul Hanlon leaves his knowledge of current events to the next Problems of Democracy fast-talker.

Don Johnson leaves the trials and tribulations of being President of the Student Council to the next Big Wheel.

"Skippy" Jones leaves his many female companions to Dave Smith.

Margaret Lacey leaves her fondness for sewing to Joyce Cresser.

The Miles. Larcom and Leonard leave their brains to the next Senior Class--which'll need them.

Lois MacKenney leaves her athletic prowess to the Carroll twins.

Nancy McLaren leaves her popularity to her brother, Parker.

Eileen Meade leaves her femininity to Martha Alcott; and her unbelievable good nature to anyone who can endure all the practical jokes that she has taken.

"Dovey" Mitchell shares her marvelous personality with Joy Barnes.

Jimmie Morrow leaves his collection of records to Dick Eastman.

Herby Munroe leaves being President of the Senior Class and all the wheeling it includes to all the up-and-coming little cogs.

Don Patterson leaves his long, low whistle to any girl passing by.

"Faysi" Roberts leaves her sophistication to Carol McFaul.

Bill Ross leaves his speed to Earl Weir and his smile to Lorraine.

Jerry Scherer leaves his dimples (when and if he smiles) to June Eastman.

"Mike" Sheehan leaves his good looks and athletic ability to John Turner.

Earle Smith leaves his vocal talent to anyone who has it to begin with.

Gordon Smith leaves the editor ship of the Nahatan News and all the wheeling in and out of classes to someone who, we hope, is equally capable.

Johnny Steeves leaves his basketball prowess to Philip Smith, and his baseball ability to Philip Johnson.

Nattie Sturtevant leaves her bottle of peroxide for those golden locks to Helen Coombs, who has run out.

Connie Vaux leaves her friendship with Miss O'Neil to Pat Sorenson.

"Red" Watson won't leave his sharp yellow convertible to anyone, Kiddos!

Paul Weir leaves his imported briar to someone with a good set of lungs and a retreaded tongue.

Barbara Winshman leaves her roving eye to Lanny Garner.

Seriously, though--we leave you younger generation our loves, our laughter, and the fun we've had here--(though not some of the marks we've been given) -- Carry on!

To Miss Keenan we leave all the gratitude in the world for her angelic patience.

To Mr. Sarris we leave a can of corn--to replenish his supply.

To Coach Bader we leave a gold football--he never gets one, and he has most of the trouble.

To Mr. Uppvall we leave a Christian Science Monitor and the hope that next year's Problems of Democracy class will use it.

To Miss Foley we leave an assignment book with plenty of pages.

To Mr. Stevens we leave a great big smile--and the hope that he'll use it.

To Mr. Chicetti we leave an advertisement for Adler's Elevator Shoes.

To Miss Fay we leave a box of growing pills--maybe she'll share them with her sister, Barb.

To Miss MacQuarrie we leave typists who pass their work in on time.

To Mrs. Smith we leave fond memories of play rehearsal--and many thanks for all her wonderful help and patience.

To Miss O'Neil we leave a basketball team that doesn't smoke--not one of 'em!!

To Miss Montague we leave another class of "dignified" seniors--let's hope they act better than we did.

To Miss Currier we leave a class of seniors who'll be on time for class.

To Miss Hulbert we leave quiet corridors.

To Mrs. Swanson we leave the state of Nebraska.

To Mrs. Nelson we leave, which should mean peace and quietness.

To Mr. Thurston, who never had a class with so many wheels, we leave our wishes for all the luck in the world.

CLAS

PROPHETY

It is now the year of 1958, exactly ten years since the class of '48 graduated from Westwood High. Let's see what the world had had to put up with from this dignified class.

Nancy Ashcroft and Irene Bertelsen are helping Nancy's sister, the famous Dr. B. Ashcroft, to discover a weapon to offset the atom bomb.

Jack Bagley has been seen lately in Maxwell's public gym. He's turned into quite a handsome fella after losing those extra pounds and is now in high hopes of becoming a football star like Maxie.

Gloria Bedard and Margaret Lacey have finished a six month tour of Europe and will open at the Met for a twenty-one month engagement in the opera, "Carmen."

Eunice Bennet will enter her horse "Lucky Star," in the Kentucky Derby. The paper quotes her as saying, "Lucky Star" is a second "Man O' War."

Jean Biateck recently received a contract from C. B. S. to broadcast to London where we find our famous Englishwoman, Elaine Bigelow. Their first topic will be "America and English Relations."

Earle Smith has made his plans for "Songs by Earle Smith" over station W. B. Z. at 6:00 A. M. Imagine singing at that time.

"Mickey" Bothwell, who is now Mrs. Des Roches, is now in the hospital after just having her second set of boy twins. They hope to have a football team by 1965.

Barbara Burt and Barbara Winshman have recently opened their office at 1510 Boylston Street. If you would like an excellent public secretary, just call Hub-4040.

We find Harvey Clark as manager of the Norwood A & P with Paul Weir as his assistant.

Joe Fay has just opened his gas station in Florida. He now has stations reaching from coast to coast.

Anna Geiger has completed her nursery school plans and hopes to open in the fall.

Gordon Smith after many years, finally completed his course at Johnson's School for Wheels and has now accepted a position teaching at Westwood High School. The course is "How to be a Wheel in Ten Easy Lessons."

Faysi Roberts is now singing with her husband, Jack Duster's Orchestra at the Copacabana. Their two sons are learning to play the trumpet like papa.

Helen Parks, with her previous experience at the Woodshed, has taken a job as waitress out in Reno. She liked the place so well, she decided to stay.

Nattie Sturtevant soon found out that a secretary's job was too dull for her, so she went to France where we now find her tutoring the handsome son of the French Prime Minister.

Low MacKenney is refereeing the Westwood High School Girl's Basketball games, but she cuts them a bit short because she must hurry home to get supp for her truck-driving husband.

Dovey Mitchell has finished nursing training and has now started practical application of this training by taking care of little red heads. She and Red are now preparing for their fifth anniversary trip to Bermuda.

Why is it that Connie Vaux's two children have such a great athletic ability? Maybe it's because they take after their father. (You always did like people who played basketball, didn't you, Connie?)

Bill Haley recently took over Arthur Murray's Dance Studios after said Mr. Murray's retirement.

Paul Hanlon is still filibustering only now he is in Washington as Senator of Massachusetts. As a sideline he sings Irish songs at various night clubs in New York City.

Ariel Leonard opened up a department store in Dedham square and has run Geisheckers right out of business.

Cantain Paul Sheehan, of the Boston police force is still the idol of all females and although not so shy, he is still single.

Skip Jones and Don Patterson have gone to Hollywood to take their positions on "Hollywood and Vine." Could it be photography that you're interested in, Patty?

And speaking of Hollywood our own "Meadie" is now starring opposite Barry Fitzgerald in their new release, "Four Leaf Killarney."

"Stevie" went along with Skip and Patty but after his whistle gave out, he joined up with the New York Giants and is now their star player.

Herb Munroe is preparing for the 1960 presidential campaign with Bill Ross as vice-president on the same ticket. With Jerry Scherer as their campaign manager they're sure to win.

Nancy's husband, John is pretty proud of his wife, I guess. For the third consecutive year, Nanc has been voted the best dressed woman in America.

After Nancy Larcom, our class brain, graduated from college she was so sick of seeing and reading books, that she decided to take a trip around the world and forget about them. Now that she's back she thought of all the interesting things she saw and has decided (against her better judgment) to write a book herself.

Irish is still going to dog shows with Eddie, even though they have been married for eight years.

Jim Morrow has recently become a full fledged "Vet", so if your dog or cat looks as though he's going to die anyway, take a chance, maybe Jim can cure him.

STUDENT COUNCIL: The Student Council has made fine progress during the high school year of '47 and '48. Under Donald Johnson's fine leadership and Miss Keenan's supervision the Council sponsored a clean-up campaign which brought fine results. The Council has sponsored all class assemblies this year, sold school pencils during the basketball season, and held a movie and dance in January. The Student Council is also in charge of bulletin boards, and display case and the library. The Student Council will end its successful year with a banquet in June.

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL: The Junior High Student Council has proved very successful this year. Under Mrs. Swanson's direction they have put on several assemblies, including a formal Installation. It follows the same program as the Senior Student Council.

DRAMATIC CLUB: The Dramatic Club has carried on its fine work this year. With the assistance of Mrs. Smith they presented "Elmer and the Lovebug" in an assembly. They should be congratulated for their splendid work.

NAHATAN NEWS: With Gordon Smith as editor in chief, and Barbara Papasedero as assistant editor, the Nahatan News has progressed very well this year. The Nahatan News collected over 150 subscriptions from the townspeople. (the purpose being to give the town a brief idea of what's going on at the high school.) The paper has run contests giving prizes for the best stories, cartoons, etc. Articles were written by Mr. Thurston, and by Mr. Eaton. The paper was exchanged with all surrounding high schools, as well as two or three distant ones. A dance was sponsored by the Nahatan News in January, and in April a very interesting and informative assembly was presented. The co-operation of Mr. Thurston, Miss MacQuarrie, Mrs. Nelson, the staff, and the Dedham Transcript have made the publication of the Nahatan News possible.

GLEE CLUB: Under Miss Montague's direction the growth of the Glee Club has been a noticeable development. The Glee Club's participation in the assemblies helped add to the enjoyment obtained by the students. The presentation of the operetta "Sailor Maids" was a huge success, and provided many laughs. Much talent from this Senior Class was found in the musical activities.

SENIOR PLAY: The Senior Class presented "Come Rain or Shine," a comedy in three acts on April 9th and 10th. Rehearsals started the last of February, with everyone full of energy and raring to go. Then about the middle of March, the play (or something) went to our heads; and so we didn't think we needed any more practice. How Mrs. Smith stood it, we'll never know. But on April 9th and 10th, under Mrs. Smith's direction, the play brought out all the talent in the magnificent class of '48 and was a huge success.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The enthusiasm for and interest in girls' sports have increased greatly during the past year. This fact was well proven when over seventy girls turned out for basketball, from which number a squad of twenty-six girls was selected. Through the co-operation and willingness of ever player to work for the team and the school a magnificent record was accomplished-- eight wins and one loss for the first team, and seven wins and one loss for the second team.

April 16 brought forth 130 "girls in green" for the gym exhibition. The program of activities included marching, calisthenics, dancing, stunts, and tumbling.

With the disappearance of the snow drifts, enthusiasm for a softball team grew. With the "Mighty Casey" behind the bat, the girls had a successful season in their first year of competition.

Racquets and net being carried over the diamond to the tennis courts, were familiar sights. The courts were greatly appreciated especially by the team which saw its first year of competition in tennis.

The person to whom the girls owe their appreciation is their director and friend Miss O'Neil. She has worked very hard to make her various undertakings successful. They all wish you the best of luck, Miss O'Neil for all the time and effort you have spent with them.

Here's to a better W. H. S.

The Westwood High School football team enjoyed another gratifying successful season on the gridiron this year. Of the nine games played this season, Westwood won four, tied three, and lost two, scoring a grand total of 125 points as compared to 79 scored by the opponents. The team was well supported by enthusiastic rooters comprised of both students and townspeople. Coach Bader can well be proud of his team and the support that it received.
